Repotting and Culture of Paphs and Phrags by Andy Tao

Monday, July 24, 2017
Program starts at 7:00 p.m.

Andy Tao will be speaking on the repotting and culture of Paphs and Phrags. His talk will center around a repotting demonstration of his preferred media, containers and techniques but will also provide insight into how he has created a favorable growing environment for his orchids and his observations on developing a collection. Andy has been growing orchids for about 15 years and maintains a small collection focused on orchid species, mainly Paphs and Phrags but accented with selected Angracoids and a handful of compelling odds and ends found their way in and refused to die. Andy will be providing a plant table with plants from Cal Orchid and his own collection.
