Topic: "Miniature Cattleyas"

Speaker: Peter Lin

8 p.m.

Our speaker got the Orchid bug 25 Years ago. He then stopped due to school and his career. Four Years ago he started back up and boy has he come a long way. He is a student Judge with the AOS and has received many awards. His focus has been mostly on Cattleyas and he has created a great PowerPoint slide show to share with us all. He is one of the nicest people I know and why not, he works for the happy place we know as Disneyland. He will be providing the plant Table so I am sure will have some great Mini Catts and a lot more great plants to choose from.

President's Message

August 2006

I have been on a summer hiatus with vacation, overtime assignments, and remodeling, but I am back now. I have had a number of projects that had been taking a lot of my time but hey that's what summer is for...right? Anyway, for those that missed the last meeting it was wonderful time with our experienced growers. I heard that it went well. I had a greenhouse emergency in the middle of that heat wave, with my cooling system out, I needed to get it fixed, so Dean Viereck and Espie Quinn lead the meeting with the pledge of allegiance and then everyone took it over from there and they pitched in to make it a successful meeting. I hear that our meeting with our grower's panel was lead by Espie Quinn, Harold Koo-powitz (in my stead), Jim Hoyle and Butch Arciaga. Thanks for sharing your growing expertise with us!

I heard that Irma Hughes was back in action and was at the last meeting. Glad to hear that she is doing better after her recent surgery! Thanks to the Reisner's for taking over the kitchen duties since Dr. Miller wasn't able to make it. Thanks to all that helped with the meeting, hope to see you at the next one.

Speaking of auctions, please start thinking about the SCOS Annual Auction this November and remember to start setting aside and grooming plants for sale in this year's auction. Let's beat last year's stunning success. The SCOS Annual Auction will be November 27th unless I hear otherwise from the board. With that date coming up soon, please be aware that our SCOS is looking for donations of plants, materials and/or gift certificates, so if you or somebody you know can help, all donations are greatly appreciated. As usual, we ask that only good quality plant material be brought to the auction. No "sickies", infested, burned, half dead, etc. need apply since our plant auction is also tied to our reputations as growers. A good rule of thumb is that if you'd buy it at an auction then it's probably worth bringing.

The annual auction is "THE" main funding source for all of the year-long expenses incurred by the SCOS, which includes among other things, the monthly rent for the Whaley Park Facility in Long Beach. Rent was increased this last year and is forecasted to continue to rise. Therefore in order to continue providing a forum for our wonderful members (A.K.A. "customers" to the vendors out there) we are asking for your enthusiastic support. I sincerely hope that you'll see the value in donating generously to our SCOS as this is our chance to get ahead for the next budget year. In addition to plants and gift certificates we are gladly accepting all types of orchid related donations. There will be more information to come after our next board meeting.

That's it for now, so if I don't see you first, I'll see you on the 28th, so take care until then and remember to bring a fellow orchid friend along to our next meeting. Join us as we share in our love of orchids,

Ruben Colmenares

SCOC Newsletter Available via Email

And at www.southcoastorchidsociety.com

Starting in July all current 2006 members will receive our newsletter attached to an email if we have your email address in addition to a mailed copy unless you have opted for the "Email-ONLY" option.

By replying to your email you can request "Discontinuing" these mailings at any time.

If you did NOT receive an emailed newsletter this month and WANT ONE, please send an email request to the editor at dwmackewicz@yahoo.com. Even if you think you have given us your email, we may not have "deciphered" it correctly so send us your email again.

Please consider the "Email-ONLY" Newsletter option.

In considering this option, realize it's an opportunity for your Society to save money in postage and printing.

Extra printed newsletters will be available at future meetings for those who get email copies but also want a hard copy. The savings on postage is still 50% of our costs. We will monitor the number of copies needed at our meetings for this purpose.

Thanks for considering the Email-ONLY option.

July Monthly Meeting

Panel members at table are:

Butch Arciaga, Espie Quinn, Jim Hoyle and Harold Koopowitz

Special thanks go to Espie Quinn for getting the discussion going and the other panel members for sharing their expertise in growing orchids.

July Panel – Questions and Answers

Below are a few comments from our very interesting July discussion which covered many topics.

BACKYARDS

Every backyard is different and orchid requirements vary. Use trial and error to find the best location and watering needs for your orchids.

WATERING ORCHIDS

1. During HOT MONTHS (like July)

Orchids Planted IN MEDIA

drench plants 3 times per week
mist in between watering days

Orchids MOUNTED or in open baskets with no media around roots, e.g., Vandas

drench plants daily in morning (plants - leaves and roots)

TIP: Bare roots dry out between watering, therefore wet roots 15-30 minutes first to let roots re-hydrate and then water / fertilize thoroughly.

mist plants several times daily after morning drench

TIP: Spanish moss on roots and leafless stems helps improve/sustain desirable humidity but thin moss when it gets too thick.

2. During Winter Months

IN MEDIA

drench plants weekly with little/no fertilizer

MOUNTED

drench plants up to daily

TIP: To avoid black spots on leave of Vandas, wet roots only, i.e., avoid wetting leaves during cooler temperatures; cover overhead during rains / rainy season.

REPOTTING ORCHIDS

1. Repot when – root tips are just beginning to grow.

Why? Because newly growing roots that are already too long and big are easily damaged / broken during reporting.

TIP: When buying bare-root orchids, look for plants showing the early stages of new root growth or bud development.

One member soaks newly purchased bare-root orchids (roots and leaves) in a solution before potting of Super-thrive, vitamin B1 and kelp extract available at most nurseries using recommended concentrations

2. Don't roll old plastic pots to remove your orchids from an old container.

Why? Because orchid roots are succulent, brittle and easily damaged.

TIP: If roots are stuck to plastic pot, cut down sides (2-4 times) and gently peel old pot off roots; or break a clay pot apart to remove plant; or leave in old pot and put in larger pot (if old media is not a concern.)

I need a small favor

I need a small favor..., and I sure hope you can help.?

If it's not too much trouble.?

I am going away on vacation and I need you to come over to water my plants while I am gone.

In the hot weather they'll probably need water twice a day.

Thanks a lot. I'll send you a postcard.

I've attached a photo for your reference.

Roberta's Shaded Orchid Patio

"This shady little 6' x 10' patio actually contains 4 distinct micro-climates. The walls (with plants on cork slabs) and the hanging area in the upper right (where the Vandas are hanging) get substantial light, and are lightly watered every day. A little lower down, there is substantial shade as well as daily watering, providing the shady, moist environment that works well for Masdavallias, Phragmipediums, and Paphiopedilums. Hanging up high, the environment is much drier and brighter, best for Cattleya and related genera, Oncidium, Brassias, etc. Away from the daily sprinklers, and lower down, the environment is shadier, and here is where the Miltonias, Odontoglossums, and where just about everything else can be found."

SCOS Member Pictures (*)

"How to know when things are Going Too Far"

"This is a picture of my bathtub with a PVC plant bench and my collection, which I put together when my mother-in-law was dog, plant and house sitting for us while we were on vacation. It was so convenient that I hung a fluorescent light over it and left it set up until the next time we had house guests."

If you insist, your name can be a mystery in the newsletter but what a nice way to get to know one another.

July Panel – Questions and Answers - continued

ORCHID PEST CONTROL

In addition to using rubbing alcohol mixes and the use of tooth brushes to fight scale, mealy bug, aphids and the like, some suggest not getting that intimate with each pest by using the following:

Orthene – a systemic insecticide applied to plant leaves and roots in the watering solution so it absorbs into the plant.

Malathion – good for a variety of pest including ants.

TIP: Rotate using different products to prevent accumulation and resistance; also spray in the morning before any breezes and avoid inhaling!

Editor's Note: the editor hopes these notes are a reasonably accurate account of the discussions reported above. Apologies for any errors.
