the bulletin board.....

OCTOBER MEETING: Dr. Aucreman gave us yet another perspective of the Ninth World Orchid Conference in Thailand. Until this meeting, I had no idea of what a major producer of orchids Thailand is - T Orchids alone ships over 10 million a year to Europe - and that's a lot of Dendrobiums! Over there they just grow like weeds, and I wish I could have brought my scrawny dendrobs just to show them what they ought to look like! The Aucremans did more than just look at the pretty orchids, though. We saw the real bridge over the river Kwai, a soy sauce factory, how batiked fabrics are produced, and how restrooms in Thailand are identified - a Buddha with a rather obvious grin on his face..... We thank the Aucremans for showing us the other side of Thailand!

LOOKING AHEAD TO DECEMBER DEPARTMENT: Since all of us would like to spend Christmas at home, the December meeting will BE A WEEK EARLY, DECEMBER 18. This will be a time to enjoy the delights of the season (brought to you by the officers and directors), music by St. Anthony's Christmas Band and songs by Bud Rowland (do his plants win more awards because he sings to them....?). Come and share the joy of the season!

YOU LUCKY SO-AND-SO: Since the Wildhrbers and Ron Swager weren't around, $100 went to BRIAN PLOECHER. Don't spend it all in one place!

TO ERR IS HUMAN DEPARTMENT: The results of the October Ribbon Judging have been temporarily misplaced, and will be subsequently published when they have surfaced. These results will not effect the outcome of the trophy as previously reported. So don't feel bad - wouldn't you know this was the month I won a ribbon but I can't remember what for.....

IN SUPPORT OF OUR ADVERTISERS: Starting with the January bulletin, a profile of one of our commercial advertisers will be published. This will help to acquaint us with the people behind the ads, and give our advertisers a chance to tell us a little more about themselves. If you have any suggestions of things you would be most interested in hearing about, please let me know.

I guess it's time to wind it up for another month. Don't stuff yourselves too full on Turkey Day! And by the way, Thanksgiving is a day of thanks - take a minute or two to count your blessings!! Take care, and we'll see you and all our commercial friends next Monday,

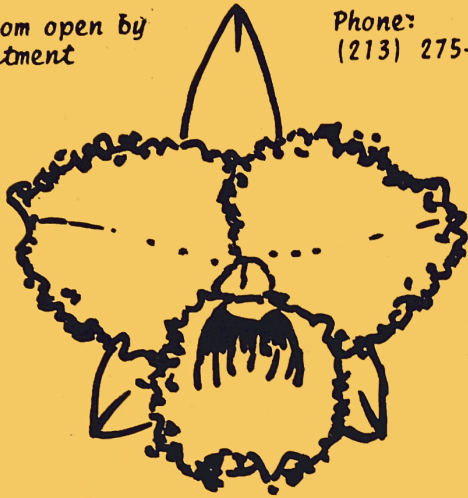

Michelle
