SOUTH COAST ORCHID SOCIETY Newsletter

Next Meeting is MAR 27 @ 8pm and Will Feature Ginny Worthington

Our March Meeting will feature Ginny Worthington speaking on "Equitant Oncidiums". Most Orchid people in the area are familiar with Ginny and her husband Pat as world traveling Orchid experts. They are very well known as people who grow many prize winning Orchids (including the 'Best Species of 1994') in their "State of the Art" greenhouse in Laguna Beach. We look forward to hearing this delightful and lovely lady talk to us this month as she shares some of her vast Orchid knowledge.

February Recap

Paul Bechtel, who owns Dagonstone Orchids, is the AOS Pacific South Head Judge. He enthralled us at the meeting with slides of the Very Best of the 1994 Orchids that were judged in the Pacific South. Paul also announced the 1994 Trophy winners and participated with the awarding of trophies to the talented growers. A big thanks to Paul for an excellent presentation & plant table.

Woman of the Year

On Friday, March 3, Jane Brecht was honored by the Costa Mesa Chamber of Commerce as "The 1995 Woman of the Year." About 200 persons, which included a table of South Coast Orchid Society Members, were in attendance at the Wyndham Garden Hotel in Costa Mesa to participate in the festivities.

Jane was well introduced by the 1994 Man of the Year, who just happened to be none other than Paul Brecht! Many awards and well deserved kudos were given to Jane from National, State, County and City representatives as well as several organizations including a 'Certificate of Appreciation' from our South Coast Orchid Society.
