

SCOS and ORCHID DIGEST awards found in South Coast Orchid Society Newsletters, February, 1958-1968, and in ORCHID DIGEST 1954-1968 and other sources.

Preliminary transcript by John McCoy (RealMac@aol.com), from the "Orchid Archive" collection at The Huntington Botanical Center. Between the surviving SCOS newsletters and the lists published from time to time in ORCHID DIGEST, a fairly complete record of judging at the Long Beach site for this period can be reconstructed. In some years, there was probably no SCOS judging in January, because the meeting was held at different location (such as the Petroleum Club in Long Beach) for the annual banquet and installation of officers.

As a result of negotiations between the respective organizations, judging under the auspices of Orchid Digest Corporation was terminated at the end of 1967, and judging resumed under American Orchid Society standards in January, 1968. The standards by then were nearly identical anyway, and all ODC judges were accepted at the equivalent level as AOS judges. In fact, most of the ODC judges were already AOS judges.

The negotiations also proposed that ODC awards from the past would be recognized as equivalent to the AOS awards in effect at the time, but in the event, no action seems to have been taken to implement this idea. The effort required to reconcile all the award records from both organizations was probably too daunting. However, there was never any suggestion that ODC awards were to be treated as invalid, and there is nothing to prevent us from citing them today. They are an important part of our orchid history.

The awards published in the SCOS newsletters that have been recovered so far usually included a serial number. Another set of serial numbers (in parentheses, below, as published in ORCHID DIGEST) was used for all ORCHID DIGEST awards across all judging sites. The serial numbers published in the SCOS newsletter, pertaining only the SCOS judging site, end in December, 1967 with number 528. Additional awards, lacking serial numbers and sometimes other details, have been gleaned from ORCHID DIGEST, in the summaries of the meetings of affiliated societies, and, beginning in 1957, in the summaries of judging results at affiliated societies. The meeting summaries show that judging began at SCOS in December, 1954, following a decision by the membership two months earlier. A few additional records have been recovered from slides found in other collections.

If a complete list of the awards from the Orchid Digest Corporation judging program has survived, no one seems to know where it is. For the Long Beach site, of a series of 528 sequentially numbered awards (plus 4 additional awards noted but apparently not part of the numbered sequence), we have found the details of at least 454 of them, thus accounting for 86% of the awards conferred. Some corrections to plant names, and, in a very few cases, photographs, have been discovered, described below in [brackets].

One anomaly has been discovered in the publication of ODC awards from SCOS and OSSC in ORCHID DIGEST. While some early ODC awards from OSSC and SCOS were indeed published as valid ODC awards (for example, in the ODC Awards List published in 1965-1966), others were not. Before March, 1957, the awards from SCOS and OSSC were sometimes, but not always, either not published or else published with a footnote to the effect that they were “independent”, in other words, not official ODC awards. But in 1957, the ODC Directors issued a statement (ORCHID DIGEST (21(2):65, March-April, 1957) to the effect that all of the awards from SCOS and OSSC were to be regarded as equal in status to ODC awards. However, the statement did not provide any context as to whether this pronouncement was to be regarded as retroactive, or only applicable to future awards. In any case, the judging standards then in use had been developed and implemented in 1949 by OSSC and then formally adopted by ODC in 1952. The judges at all ODC judging sites were using the same standards and the same qualifications for the judges themselves, so there was no reason to treat the awards separately. The only real consequence from the period 1954-1957 is that there are some gaps in the awards that were published in ORCHID DIGEST.

December 19, 1955:

[___ Lc. Amigo 'Niña', 76.5 points, "Bronze" [HCC/ODC?], A. R. Stephenson. This record is from a slide in the Frank Fordyce archive, lacking an award number or the identity of the judging site. From the date, we surmise it could have been the Long Beach site, which would probably have altered its meeting date to the third Monday of the month, as the fourth Monday was the day after Christmas. Nevertheless, the circumstances are not clear, and the January or February, 1956 SCOS newsletters, which would have reported December judging, have not been found. Now correctly C. Amigo, a hybrid registered in 1950 by Joseph Urmston.]

September 24, 1956:

76 Slc. Estelle Jewell 'Mojave', HCC/ODC 76.2 points, A. R. Stephenson [Now correctly C. Estella Jewell, this record comes from a copy of the award photograph in the Frank Fordyce slide collection at the Huntington Botanical Center, including the SCOS award number. Fordyce had purchased property from Albert R. Stephenson (1894-1970) about 1962, consisting of residence, greenhouses, and orchid collection, on Fire Mountain Road, Carlsbad, CA, and that property became the first site of Frank Fordyce Orchids. The archive has many slides that seem to have come from Stephenson.]

248 Cyp. Nubian 'AM/RHS', HCC/ODC 75.2, Fred A. Stewart Co., San Gabriel, Calif. [Now Paph. Nubian. Per OrchidWiz, apparently in Sander's List with registration date 1934, parentage Paph. Bingleyense (1899) x unknown, originator and registrant unknown? This cultivar is supposed to be the same one that received AM/RHS when exhibited August 14, 1930 by Messrs. Sander. Evidently the 1934 registration date is in error and needs to be investigated further. Was this hybrid announced in Orchid Review? That there is reason to question this information is confirmed by the discovery of a report of judging at the Royal Horticultural Hall, Tuesday, January 25, 1921 (reported in Gardeners' Chronicle, January 29, 1921): "Messrs. SANDERS, St. Albans, were awarded a Silver Banksian Medal for a group with Cymbidiums at the back and a good selection of Cyripediums and Laelio-Cattleyas. Among the best were Odontoglossum Knight Templar (amabilis x Rio Tinto), a large dark red flower, with some lighter markings; and Cyripedium Nubian (Niobe x Thompsonii), a grand flower of fine substance." Also, in the 1934 Yearbook of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, among "Medals and Certificates Awarded in 1933", we found a "Vote of Commendation" for Cyripedium Nubian, exhibited by Edwin S. Webster – proof that Paph. Nubian was generally recognized before the supposed registration in 1934. The hybrid of Niobe x Thompsonii is now shown as Nubia, registered by W. Thompson of Walton Grange in 1912. Is it possible that Nubia was at least once mislabeled as Nubian, resulting in a "new" but fictitious hybrid? We checked the online RHS International Orchid Register, which agrees with what we found in OrchidWiz. Nubia is listed in the 1921 edition of Sander's List with the same data. Orchid Review vol. 38, p. 285 (1930) mentions "Cyripedium Nubian (parentage unrecorded), from Messrs. Sanders", a reference to the FCC award mentioned above – this is a Google "snippet", the entire article needs to be examined. Also found on Google, Orchid Review, 1949, p. 13, a discussion of "C. bingleyense" crosses: "C. Nubian is also probably a C. bingleyense cross...". Also, Sander's One-Table List of Orchid Hybrids, 1961, p. 458 (snippet view, again), "Nubian, ign. (probably a Bingleyense cross)", but there is an extra character not completely visible in the snippet, before the grex name, suggesting uncertainty, and the date is apparently uncertain as well. See also, Paphiopedilum Hybrids: Their Parents and Progeny as Registered from 1856,

Including Cypripediums and Phragmipediums, Penn Valley Orchids, 1994. One opinion (AOS Bulletin, December, 1963, p. 998) is that Paphs Redstart and Nubian both have unknown parentage but are very similar, and both are thought to be bingleyense crosses, “and in our opinion is it likely that they could be the same cross”. Apparently, bingleyense was at times (1950’s?) regarded as a separate species. (Note pictures of Paph. Nubian at Smithsonian Institution Learning Center web site, and Redstart ‘Exbury’ from mariasorchids.blogspot.com from District of Columbia Botanic Garden.)]

249 Cyp. Lohengren ‘Mary Jane’ (Golden Beauty ‘Radiance’ x F. C. Puddle), AM/ODC 81.1, Mr. & Mrs. Rolan Howard, Hawthorne, Calif. One 3 3/8” overall off-white flower with some cream on lip, base of petals, and sepals. [Now correctly Paph. Lohengrin. This plant received HCC/AOS when exhibited two weeks earlier, November 9, 1959, at the OSSC meeting in Hollywood, CA.]

251 Cym. Bo-Peep ‘Suntan’ (Purpureum x pumilum), HCC/ODC 75.2, Fred A. Stewart. [This plant received HCC/AOS when exhibited two weeks later, January 11, 1960, at the OSSC meeting in Hollywood, CA.]

254 C. Bob Betts ‘Wong’ (Bow Bells x Mossiae ‘Wagneri’), HCC/ODC 77.3, Ilsley Orchids. [This cultivar received HCC/AOS when exhibited by Ilsley Orchids, Inc., Beverly Hills, CA, at “Regional meeting judging, Saint Louis, California” on January 3, 1962. This award needs to be researched further! In the AOS Bulletin, March, 1962, it is listed as “Regional Meeting Judging, St. Louis, California” with the January 3, 1962 date. Could this refer to an AOS regional meeting? There was no AOS regional meeting during January, 1962. Judging was held at the Mid-America Regional Judging Center on that date at the Missouri Botanical Garden in St. Louis, Missouri, but it seems unlikely that Ilsley would have exhibited a Cattleya so far away from Beverly Hills at that time of year! The OSSC Review shows OSSC judging on both January 8 and January 15, 1962, and does not include the problematic award.]

255 C. Bob Betts ‘Johnston’ x C. General Patton, Artic (should be Arctic!) Snow (not clear if this should be the cultivar name of the pollen parent, or of the plant being awarded), AM/ODC

87.5, Douglas W. Johnston. [This hybrid was registered by Douglas W. Johnston in 1960 as C. Ruth M. Johnston. See below for another cultivar of this hybrid, also exhibited by Douglas Johnston, that shows 'Arctic Snow' was indeed a cultivar of C. General Patton. For the present AM/ODC award, no cultivar name is given for the awarded plant, but see below, after 261, same date, a very similar description, quite possibly a different version of the SAME AWARD.]

256 Cyp. Blendia 'Magnifica' (Lucarola x Mem. F. M. Ogilvie), HCC/ODC 75.3, Santa Barbara Orchid Estate. [Now Paph. Blendia. This cultivar received BM/CSA in 1951, exhibited by Armacost and Royston, then another BM/CSA with a score 0.1 points higher when exhibited by SBOE two days after the ODC award, February 24, 1960, and shortly after, March 4, 1960, at the Monterey Bay Orchid Society Show in Watsonville, CA.]

257 Phaius Gravesiae 'Fontana' (grandifolius x Wallichii), AM/ODC 82.0, Ross W. Gesler. [Not published for this month in ORCHID DIGEST, then published much later: 10 4 5/8" mahogany flowers with gold lip and burnt orange throat. Correct parentage is Phaius tankervilleae x wallichii. This plant received HCC/AOS a few weeks later, March 17, 1960, at the Southland Orchid Show, Arcadia, CA, exhibited by Ross W. Gesler of Fontana, CA.]

258 Slc. Starlet 'Charleston' (Slc. Anzac 'Orchidhurst' x Sc. Celia 'Ruby'), HCC/ODC 76.9, Mr. & Mrs. A. E. Hecker. [Now C. Starlet. The parentage is now correctly C. Anzac (1921) x Celia (1926).]

259 Cym. Lady Moxham 'Mary' (Alexanderi 'Westonbirt' x Sunrise 'F. K. Sander'), HCC/ODC 77.0, Santa Barbara Orchid Estate. [This cultivar received BM/CSA April 16, 1959, when exhibited by R. J. Chrisman, and HCC/AOS March 4, 1960, shortly after the ODC award, when exhibited by SBOE at the Monterey Bay Orchid Society Show in Watsonville, CA.]

260 Cym. Glendora 'Del Rey' (Doris Aureau x Alexanderi), HCC/ODC 75.8, Santa Barbara Orchid Estate. [Correct name of the parent is Doris Aurea.]

261 C. Bob Betts 'Williamson's' (Bow Bells x Mossiae 'Wagneri'), HCC/ODC 78.3, Dr. Westenberger. (Apparently the same award – same date – published again much later in ORCHID DIGEST as C. Bob Betts 'Alamo'.) [A cultivar 'Williamson' was supposedly awarded HCC/AOS on January 1, 1960, Los Angeles, CA. The award was eventually located in the AOS Bulletin of June, 1960, the date was February 8, 1960, at the usual monthly OSSC meeting AOS judging, showing the name of the parent as C. mossiae 'Wagneri'.]

___ C. Ruth Johnston 'Big Surprise' (Bob Betts 'Bob Johnston' x General Patton 'Arctic Snow'), AM/ODC 87.5 points, Douglas W. Johnston. 8 7½ inch flowers on 2 spikes, solid white with yellow eyes in throat. [Not published in the newsletter, and published for this month much later in ORCHID DIGEST. This is very likely the final version of the same (provisional) award listed above as award 255. The correct name should be C. Ruth M. Johnston. This entry should therefore be COMBINED with 255.]

[No awards reported for March, 1960, should have included 262 ?]

April 25, 1960:

[263?] Oncidium marcranthum (should be macranthum!) 'Questover', Certificate of Botanical Merit [CBM/ODC] 80 points, Mr. and Mrs. Rolan R. Howard. 15 1½" bright yellow flowers, lower sepals fused with green-brown, white lip with purple markings. [ORCHID DIGEST published this as an addendum for February, 1960. Correct name is now Cytochilum macranthum.]

264 Lc. Pasadena Parade 'Chieftain' (Lc. Gitche Manito 'Goliath' x Lc. Areca 'Model'), HCC/ODC 75.08, Fred A. Steward, Inc. [ORCHID DIGEST published this, but only the name and parentage, as an addendum for February, 1960. Now C. Pasadena Parade.]

265 Epidendrum prismatocarpum 'Herbrita', CCM/ODC 80.7, Mr. & Mrs. H. W. Crothers. 114 2" flowers on 6 spikes. [ORCHID DIGEST published this as an addendum for February, 1960. Now Prosthechea prismatocarpa.]

June 27, 1960:

266 Lc. Manila 'Margaret Newmeyer' x Lc. Grubstake 'Jackpot', HCC/ODC 75.5, J. R. Faitel. [Not published for this month in ORCHID DIGEST. This hybrid was later registered as C. Junto by Ben O. Bracey, 1963. The parentage is correctly C. Manila x C. Grub Stake.]

#55693 in OrchidWiz. The awards from the 1960 judging session in Honolulu reported in the AOS Bulletin (30(3):230, March, 1961, including photos) include not only this C. Empress Bells (photo shows a single flower, nothing else visible), but also Phal. Doris 'Stephenson' AM/AOS, both from Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Stephenson of Carlsbad, CA. While it seems unlikely they traveled to Hawaii to exhibit two orchids, they might have shipped cut flowers or even carried cut flowers with them while flying to Hawaii for a vacation. OrchidWiz has extracted the award description information from the Register of Awards, "Three well-shaped white flowers; good lip with yellow in throat." The ODC record does not include a description. However, a photo from that award would mention Frank Fordyce, not Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson, and would not list the award as AM. The photo in OrchidWiz is evidently from the 1960 AOS award, even though it does not match the photo of the single flower shown in the AOS Bulletin.]

The hybrid Cym. floribundum x Pajaro is registered as Cym. Mary Pinchess. See below, 385.]
